

Whitehorse, the ^{Winter} Wilderness City

Botanical photographs in the Hospital–Long Lake area,
Downtown’s neighbourhood forest

July 3, 2025

A whitehorseWalks project to share a love of walking and to promote better walking opportunities in the large area behind the hospital

- Pundits say walking:* is good for physical health • is good for mental health, depression
- is a low intensity recreation with minimal impact on the natural environment
 - builds a lifetime of skills that you can use anywhere you go • is one of life's pleasures
 - is simple, free and an easy way to get more active, keep fit and become healthier
 - is positively associated with social interaction, sense of community
 - is a reflection of a healthy community • in a forest, forest bathing, is a healing activity
 - lends itself to exploring the outdoors and its different habitats and to see more in nature
 - is an essential habit to pass to our children • in nature is good for your brain

Walking vision for a progressive, healthy community

- ... promoting an interpreted wilderness city walking destination in downtown's urban forest behind the hospital — a worthy fascinating setting (see p 20-21 map)
- ... create self-guided Hospital Healing Walks in the hills behind the hospital — respite and wellness opportunities for visitors and staff, recreation for neighbourhood residents
- ... build an iconic First Nation footbridge from the hospital to the VRC — reconciliation, hospital wellness, downtown pride, commercial vitality, tourism
- ... address climate change by less urban sprawl, less vehicle-centric focus, by having a denser downtown that's still a healthy, desirable, walkable neighbourhood to live in
- ... promote neighbourhood, youth stewardship, such as trail maintenance, interpretation; offset addictive kid/adult screen time with healthy outdoor opportunities in nature, a chance to reach new audiences willing to learn about aspects of nature

What I'm making...

- ... a collection of self-guided hospital healing walks including
 - a 5-km loop trail around the hospital such that one is never more than about 15 minutes away from the hospital; a map and walking instructions in various languages
 - a 10⁺-km downtown feature loop with great hiking as well as strong trail signage
 - ... geography, the glacial history and end of the last ice age, the kettles, escarpments
 - ... this booklet: Botanical photographs of species growing behind the hospital is a look around, get down on your hands and knees guide. My lofty goal is collecting a good photo of each species of plant, moss, lichen and fungus within the project area.
- There are thousands of botanical species in the world; far fewer will be found in the Yukon. To make it fun, more interesting for people walking in the hospital area, this booklet just contains photos I've taken here — essentially a proof of existence. Unfortunately this draft won't help you find species—in particular, many lichens are tiny.
- I use iNaturalist to make best guesses in identification. Some species (lichens!) are difficult to identify from images alone! My photos are in iNaturalist under yukonpete.
- This not a draft but rather a work-in-process, a learning exploration. Most pictures were taken this past summer with my phone. Blank spaces are for updates. Lists at the front and words in the footer are live links in the PDF. Zoom in on photos for close ups.
- What botany lives in your local schoolyard? your yard? your greenbelt? your woods?
